Medikoi

Medikoi Health

Medikoi Health food is the best way to maintain the immune system of your fish. The unique ingredients ensure that Medikoi Health enables your fish to be at their healthiest.

"Stimune" helps the fish's natural immune system to fight infection. The immune system's first line of defence against invading micro-organisms are white blood cells known as macrophages. Macrophages recognise foreign bodies including bacteria and parasites and engulf them before they can multiply and cause disease. "Stimune" is a beta-glucan which helps maintain large numbers of macrophages in the circulatory system.

Medikoi Health also contains a unique natural herbal formula developed in our laboratories which helps to maintain resistance to disease. Lemon skin, olive leaf and Artemesia all help maintain resistance to a wide variety of infections. Valerian root has been known for a long time to be an excellent sedative so helps to reduce stress. Other herbs in the formula also aid digestion.

Propolis is also included in Medikoi Health. Propolis is produced by honey bees to keep the hive free from infection. Propolis is, therefore, good for speeding recovery after infection.

Recommended feeding:

In order for Medikoi health to provide continued support to the immune system, fish should be rested from it from time to time. Therefore, we recommend feeding Medikoi Health for 3 weeks and then Medikoi Beauty for 2 weeks before resuming the Medikoi Health.

If desired, you can replace Medikoi Beauty with Medikoi Growth or Wheatgerm with Garlic. Alternatively, you can feed any combination of these feeds during the rest from Medikoi Health. When feeding Medikoi Health, you can also feed Medikoi Growth or Wheatgerm with Garlic for the second feed of the day.
